SALEM OPENS $10,000 DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

Campaign is for War Relief And Is Not Annual Roll Call

15 PER CENT WILL BE KEPT IN CITY

Volunteers Works On Job; Nearby Areas Will Be Canvassed

Volunteer workers today launched the campaign to raise Salem's $10,000 war fund for the American Red Cross, hoping to reach the goal by Saturday.

The war fund drive is for war relief and not to be confused with the annual Red Cross Roll Call. Lapel buttons, with the inscription "I Gave" were worn by many persons today after they had contributed to the new effort.

Fifteen per cent of the $10,000 will remain in Salem for the city's own war fund for disaster and relief (not administration), Chairman E. S. Dawson explained.

Boy Scouts Aid
Boy Scouts added impetus to the drive by distributing war fund posters throughout the city, many of which are displayed on store windows.

A number of volunteer leaders are at work to help put the drive across by this weekend.

Willis R. Hole is in charge of delivery of supplies to the factories, while a committee headed by L. H. Colley will call upon the management of local shops regarding contributions.

The larger districts in the downtown area are being handled by groups under the direction of David Egan, Mrs. Joseph Bloomberg and Atty. A. L. Fitch. Solicitors for the business district and residences are working under the direction of Mrs. E. S. Dawson.

Byron Maxson is in charge of subscriptions from concerns with main offices in other cities, while Chester A. Cope has organized a group to solicit funds from the service stations and garages.

Canvass Nearby Areas
Damascus, Washingtonville and Winona will be thoroughly canvassed since these communities are a part of the Salem Red Cross chapter's territory.

Women will be on duty from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. daily at the First National and Farmers National banks, Mrs. R. B. Kernohan serving at the First National and Miss Mary Bowman at the Farmers.

Hole Is Appointed As Justice of Peace

Willis R. Hole of N. Ellsworth ave. a former Perry township trustee, was appointed justice of the peace to succeed Mayor R. R. Johnson when the trustees met for an adjourned meeting Saturday afternoon.

Hole will serve the remaining two years of Johnson's unexpired term. The trustees' regular meetings will be held every other Saturday, the next regular session being Jan. 24.

Fighting Yanks Of Batan Battle Japs With Gun And Song

Anti-Aircraft Gunner Writes Poem—"Dive Low, Dive Bomber"; Associated Press Newsman Picks Up Sidelights of Luzon Epic

By CLARK LEE
WITH THE USAFFE ON BATAN PENINSULA, Jan. 18 (Delayed)—With shot and shell . . . but also with song the fighting Yanks of Batan peninsula sound their defiance to the attacking Japanese.

In a variety of tunes the soldiers are singing a poem entitled "Dive Low, Dive Bombers," written by Corporal Dumot F. Wade of Coronado, Calif.

Corporal Wade is one of the men in a crack anti-aircraft unit I saw in action, and his poem tells the whole story of the spirit of these warriors:

I looked straight up and what did I see?
Six dive bombers diving at me!
If my eyes listened to my feet,
My eyes would still be running—in retreat.

But I cut the fuse on a three-inch shell
And our guns were quickly giving them hell.
Six silver planes came sailing by,
And we blasted two right out of the sky.

This is our warning to the Rising Sun:
It won't be long 'til we have the war won.
Dive low, dive bombers, and give us a chance;
Dive low, dive bombers, in your dying dance.

Here are other notes in a war correspondent's notebook:
A Sunday morning snapshot: A tin-battled private of the hard-boiled Fourth Marines leaning his head against a machine-gun barrel and carefully reading page after page of the Bible.

The USAFFE ground forces on Batan peninsula are composed of thousands of soldiers whose name is Joe. That's because the Americans call all the Filipinos "Joe." . . . and the Filipinos respond in kind by calling all the Americans "Joe."

Many meals start with quinine. That's to combat the malarial mosquitos infesting the midlands.

The Batan peninsula, in which the American and Filipino forces and the Japanese armies have settled down to positional warfare, is a sparsely settled, little cultivated region of fantastically shaped trees and nearly impenetrable jungle undergrowth.

Many of the trees are from 30 to 50 feet in circumference and though they tower 300 feet there is foliage Turn to YANKS, Page 8

2 EXTRA DAYS ASSIGNED FOR REGISTRATION

Saturday, Sunday, Feb. 14, 15, As Well As Feb. 16, Will Aid 20-44 Men

DRAFT BOARD HERE DRAWING UP PLANS

Memorial Building Is Salem Center; Branches To Be Set Up

Three days—Feb. 14 to 16—were set aside today for the selective service registration of Ohio men between 20 and 45, unregistered previously.

Selective Service headquarters provided two extra days for the convenience of citizens who might be handicapped by being restricted to the nationally designated Feb. 16, it was explained.

Ohio's third registration of men for possible military service will apply to the unregistered who reached their 20th birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1941, or who have not attained their 45th birthday on Feb. 16, 1942.

Time Is Set
They will register at sites selected by local draft boards at these hours: Between noon and 6 p. m. on Feb. 14 and 15 and between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Feb. 16.

Plans are being completed to have eligible men of Salem and immediate district register at the Salem draft board headquarters in the Memorial building.

Registrations also will be taken at Columbiana, Leetonia, North Georgetown and Kensington. The exact branch registration centers will be announced later.

Upon reporting to his board, the registrant will be given a green registration card with his name, address and description, while a second, almost identical card, will be retained by the registrar.

Questionnaire Next
Then there will be no further demands made upon the registrant until he receives his questionnaire which is expected to be more searching than that sent original registrants.

Local boards have been instructed not to classify new men or integrate their names into existing lists until orders are received from Washington.

Because of the increased load the registration will place upon local boards, they have been authorized to enlist volunteer registrars, including teachers, public officials, ex-service men, election board employees or competent private citizens.

Salem Welfare Unit Discusses Program

The first meeting this year of the Welfare Unit, composed of representatives of various women's clubs and other women's groups, was held Saturday afternoon at the Memorial building to discuss plans for this year's work.

The unit was organized two years ago to co-ordinate the individual clubs' welfare work into one larger project, and in that time has provided dental surveys and care for many children in the lower grades. The work is supervised by Miss Lillian Schroeder, public school nurse.

Mrs. Ernest Horton, president of the unit, explained the methods used by the group to raise funds already this year and led the discussion on further fund-raising.

To fully inform member groups of the unit on the work accomplished last year, the unit will send a personal representative and letters to each explaining the purpose, progress and results.

It was decided to permit each member club and organization to support the unit in its own way, by raising funds and by direct contribution. The plan will replace the usual benefit held by the unit.

Mrs. Horton pointed out that one of the chief values of the work was in calling the parents' attention to the dental needs of their children through the complete survey made by the school nurse and local dentists.

SET NEW TIME FOR DELIVERIES HERE

With regular deliveries starting one-half hour earlier, the Merchants Delivery announced today that special deliveries will be limited to emergencies and necessities.

Orders must be placed with the merchant by 9:45 for morning delivery and by 2:45 for afternoon delivery. Customers are urged to check their needs and have ample supplies on hand.

The new plan was made necessary by federal orders which prohibit the sale of new tires for use on trucks making deliveries to homes. House-to-house deliveries have no priority under present tire regulations.

SAVINGS ARE SAFE, SAYS MORGENTHAU

Secretary's Statement Is Emphasized by Federal Bank President

Bank depositors need have no fear that the federal government is going to "freeze" or in any other way interfere with their funds, local banks have been informed by M. J. Fleming, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

Unfounded rumors have been circulated, and may be further circulated to the effect that the federal government is "going to take over all savings deposits," or that "the treasury is planning to force those with savings deposits to buy defense bonds." In some instances the circulation of such rumors has led to the withdrawal of funds from deposits, or the hoarding of funds coming into the possession of individuals which ordinarily would find their way into banks as deposits.

In this connection the following statement has been made by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Fleming points out.

"I wish to state most emphatically that there are no foundations whatever for such rumors. The federal government does not have under consideration any proposal involving the confiscation of savings deposits of this country for any purpose. Furthermore, any one circulating rumors of this character is acting against the welfare of the nation."

The treasury department has repeatedly emphasized the importance of financing the war effort, to the greatest possible extent, from current income rather than from accumulated savings. To that end, efforts are being made to encourage employers of labor to adopt a payroll allotment plan for the sale of defense bonds to employees. This is regarded as one of the essential steps in combating the development of inflationary tendencies.

Bodies Are Taken From Crash Scene

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 19.—The shattered bodies of actress Carole Lombard and eight other persons among 22 killed in a mountain-top plane crash Friday night lay in a Las Vegas morgue today while men toiled through snow to bring the remaining 13 victims down from the crash scene.

The dead included Miss Lombard and her mother and two other women, the actress' press representative and 15 army fliers, in addition to the pilot and co-pilot.

Recovered from the plane wreckage late yesterday were the remains of two women and seven men.

Wisps of blonde hair "and the general contour of her face" served to enable Edgar J. Mannix, vice president of M. G. M. studios, to identify one body as that of Miss Lombard.

Actor Clark Gable, who flew here upon receiving word of the crash Friday night, remained in seclusion at a hotel. Friends said he was too numb by the shock of the death of his wife and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Peters, and their close friend, studio press agent Otto Winkler, to talk to anyone. Unable to leave his film duties, Gable last week had asked Winkler to accompany Miss Lombard to Indianapolis where she aided in a sale of defense bonds.

Spencer Tracy, a close friend of the actor, drove alone to Las Vegas Saturday and was expected to accompany him back to Hollywood. Studio officials in Los Angeles were making arrangements for a double funeral for Miss Lombard and her mother, to be held probably Wednesday or Thursday.

PATROL ARRESTS FIVE MOTORISTS

Robert Straley, 36, of Wampum, Pa., charged with driving a car while intoxicated, drew a fine of $100 and costs in Justice Earl Spaulding's court at East Palestine.

Richard Keip, 18, of Canton, arrested here on a charge of speeding, was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Johnson.

Edward Mohr, 20, of Struthers, charged with reckless driving, and Joseph Roberts, 40, of North Lima, arrested for failing to observe a stop sign, were fined $10 and costs each by Mayor Lloyd Culler at Washingtonville.

Fred Runniger, 27, of Franklin, Pa., charged with speeding, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dickson of Canfield.

AWAITING REPORT OF UNDERWRITERS

Council's Fire Station Action Delayed Pending Survey

City council is awaiting the report of the Ohio Inspection bureau, a division of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, before proceeding with steps for the removal of the fire station from city hall as ordered by State Fire Marshall Ray R. Gill.

Bureau officials were here several days ago to make the survey. A written report, with recommendations for a central site for the department, is expected to follow in the near future.

Councilmen-at-Large Harry Vincent and Fred A. Shaffer, together with Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy and Police Chief Ralph J. Stoffer, comprise the committee which is endeavoring to find suitable temporary quarters for the two departments.

The state fire marshal's condemnation proceedings against the city hall call for the early removal of the police and fire departments, while other offices will be allowed to remain there for the time being.

Three Youths Hurt In Traffic Crash

Three Sebring youths were injured in one of two district traffic mishaps which marred a perfect weekend traffic state.

The boys were hurt when their automobile, driven by Leland Hughes, 18, of 579 California ave., crashed into a truck-trailer operated by Virgil C. Platt, 24, of R. D. 2, Atwater, on the North Benton-Sebring road, about two miles south of North Benton, at 12:30 p. m. Saturday. Platt was uninjured, state highway patrolmen said.

Hughes suffered head lacerations and a bruised shoulder. Robert Shively of 345 Ohio ave., received lacerations of the scalp, legs and hands. Robert Woolf, 19, of 315 Virginia ave., a third passenger in Hughes' car, suffered a chest injury, a broken nose and head lacerations.

Paul Scrimmer, 25, of Indianapolis, escaped injury when his truck overturned on a country road near Leetonia Sunday afternoon after the rear wheels of his vehicle slid onto the soft berm of the highway.

BRITISH DROP BACK FURTHER ON WEST COAST

Japs Pounding Heavily At Segamat, 95 Miles From Johore Strait

REPORT DEFENSE LINES STIFFENING

Fighting Still Light and Inconclusive In Philippine Area

(By Associated Press)
SINGAPORE, Jan. 19.—The battle of Singapore entered a more critical phase today as the British acknowledged a further withdrawal along the west coast of Johore state and reported that the Japanese were hammering heavily at their lines near Segamat, on the central Malayan railroad 95 miles from Johore Strait.

The withdrawal of the British left flank, in the Muar river area, was carried out, a communique said, to meet the threat of Japanese troops filtering southward along the coast.

Within 90 Miles of City
The announcement failed to disclose the extent of the retreat, but it appeared that Japanese forces on the coast must be well within 90 miles of Singapore itself.

Segamat is about 15 miles south-east of Gemas, which fell into Japanese hands last week.

Announcement of the new reverses came in the face of reports from the front of stiffening British resistance.

Official quarters were silent on the question of whether air reinforcements had come to the defense of Singapore, but reported that the RAF had heavily attacked Japanese transports on roads in the Muar sector and had bombed and machine-gunned barges off the coast.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that Japanese air raiders which struck a heavy blow at Singapore yesterday had killed 56 persons and injured 135—mostly civilians.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Japanese patrols have been active against American and Filipino forces in the Philippines during the last 24 hours but results have been indecisive, the war department reported today.

Ground operations have been of a desultory nature since American troops smashed a heavy Japanese attack, the communique said.

NO SPEEDY PEACE BY LABOR IS SEEN

Neither AFL Nor CIO Take Immediate Steps On Lewis' Proposal

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A proposal by John L. Lewis that the AFL and CIO try once more to find a common ground for reunion failed to elicit immediate signs today that organized labor's two big houses, divided and warring since the fall of 1936, would agree on a way to close the breach quickly.

The boss of the United Mine Workers of America, biggest union and financial mainstay of the CIO, addressed his plea Saturday to CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green.

Although it was assumed generally that Murray would assent he made no public pronouncement for the time being and Green said only "our peace committee stands ready to meet with a committee from the CIO at any time."

Sees Only Truce
Daniel J. Tobin, AFL vice president, contended the best that could be expected from conferences at this time would be a truce. "The reason Lewis asked that peace conferences be reopened was because he was the one who adjourned the 1936 conference and had promised to call it back," Tobin asserted.

Lewis, asserting that "labor imperatively requires coherency, in order to give maximum assistance to the nation in its war effort," suggested

COULD SOMEBODY GUESS?

Here is a question that will stump your friends. If it's good for the United States to have daylight saving time because there is a war, why wouldn't it be good for the United States to have daylight saving time when the war's over?

It has been the European practice as well as the American practice to swing into daylight saving for the duration of wars, then to swing out immediately afterward, except for continuation of daylight saving in summertime. In the present war, European nations all are on 12-month daylight saving schedules, and some of the belligerents have set their clocks ahead an additional hour during the longest days of the year.

In the United States, however, congress reluctantly has agreed to adopt daylight saving time for the duration of the war and six months thereafter. When the period of grace is up, back will go the clocks. Nobody knows why this should be, but it is, just like warts on cucumbers.

STABILIZED ON ALL FRONTS

If arrival of new troops in Malaya can stop Japan's drive on Singapore, and if the land-air-war advance via the Philippines and Borneo in the other direction can be made to bog down at the same time, the war temporarily will be stabilized on all fronts.

Best weapon of the Axis has been dynamic action at the expense of poorly prepared opponents. It has held the initiative throughout the war. It has selected its battle points and the time for action. It has been one jump ahead of the opposition in every engagement.

But bit by bit it has whittled down its advantage. There are no new lands to conquer by surprise, treachery and ruthless aggression. There are only old lands and old battlegrounds to be fought over. The war of attrition that French and British strategists thought had begun in 1939 is starting in 1942.

There may be new scenes in the struggle for the right to dominate the nations, but there will be no more surprises. Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor, the Philippines and other United States outposts was the last and it was a surprise only because Americans failed to believe the handwriting on the wall meant what it seemed to mean.

To make its strategy successful, the Axis bloc had to win Singapore. If Japan can be checked, the war of attrition will go to the side with the greater lasting power.

MEMO TO LATIN AMERICA

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, can be depended on to represent the United States adequately in the deliberations at Rio de Janeiro, but if it were possible for his countrymen to help him they'd like to say something like this:

We don't blame Latin Americans for being leary of so much sudden friendship from this direction. But it's only reasonable to suppose they will be at least as suspicious of friendship from any other direction—the Axis direction, to be specific. After all, international friendship isn't based on sentiment, but expediency. There's no altruism about diplomacy. The United States wants the Americas to resist the Axis for a practical reason. The Axis wants the Latin Americans to resist the United States for a practical reason.

The decision is in the hands of the Latin Americans, themselves. They must bear in mind one thing—the comparative advantages of collaboration with the United States and collaboration with the Axis. They will see, if they look at the record, that there never has been any such thing as collaboration with the Axis. Italy tried it with Germany; the results were fatal for Italy. The United States tried it, to a moderate extent, with Japan; the result was the incident at Pearl Harbor.

The United States has a lot to apologize for in its history, but when it comes to good neighboring it will stand on its record. When better reputations for keeping faith are built, this country probably will build them.

ANOTHER COUNTRY TO BE HEARD FROM

Germany, infinitely tougher to fight than Japan, also is at war with the United States. It has been easy to overlook Germany's belligerency, but the submarine incident off Long Island will help to bring the situation into focus.

Against its two major enemies, Germany and Japan, the United States has a defense consisting in the first instance of two defensive outposts, the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific, the British Isles in the Atlantic. While the outposts are maintained, direct attack on the United States would be difficult. The British, no doubt, would bristle to hear themselves described as defenders of the United States, but it was that role which gave them a clear claim on lend-lease aid. Realists recognized long ago that the United States didn't need to pretend there was anything altruistic about helping the British.

Germany is capable of carrying submarine warfare into coastal waters, a demonstration first staged in World War I. It is capable of exploiting treachery in this hemisphere to furnish assistance for its war against the United States. It is capable of seizing territory in some instances, perhaps with the aid of Nazi fifth columnists.

Air raids are not out of the question. An invasion of South America from bases in Africa isn't out of the question. While North America remains relatively safe as long as British resistance is continued, an invasion of North America wouldn't be out of the question if Great Britain were defeated. These things can happen unless the United States beats Germany to the punch. It is not to be imagined that the hatred of all things American voiced by Hitler and the other Nazis will continue to exist only as an abstraction. There is another country to be heard from before the final returns of World War II can be called complete.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, January 20

EXCELLENT auguries are found in this day's astral forecast, with many affairs moving along at a lively pace and to desired culminations, this following the breaking away from old static or crystallized conditions. Nevertheless there is likely to be an urge to undertake over-ambitious or speculative enterprises which may prove unprofitable and affect the standing and credit, unless much vigilance, restraint, sound judgment and keen acumen are shown.

Those whose birthday it is may have excellent opening for important projects and ambitious programs if they bring to bear on all such propositions well-organized plans, attention to details, sober judgment as well as much sagacity, since all major programs may be beset by dangers of imposition, false promises, over-expansive ideas, as well as too generous and unwarranted use of funds.

A child born on this day while having sound judgment and character yet may possess expansive, over-enthusiastic and generous tendencies, as well as some peculiar or erratic qualities, relying on hunches to its detriment.

CHURCHILL FACES HORNET'S NEST

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

British Premier Churchill has returned home from Washington to encounter an angry outcry over the Japanese threat to Singapore, and demands by the press and in the house of commons that there be an expulsion of cabinet ministers and others charged with responsibility for Britain's military weakness.

This situation can scarcely be alleviated by the arrest of Premier U Saw of Burma on a charge of conspiring with the Japs. Were Burma delivered to Nippon it would at once (1) deprive the British of a base from which to strike at the rear of the Japanese attacking Singapore, (2) cut the Burma road which is China's route for supplies, and (3) give the Japs a grand base for action against the India which they so long have coveted.

Well, it's the Englishman's proud right to damn his own government, and likely the present occasion calls for a spot of damning. Still, it's given to wonder whether the outburst isn't largely a matter of flogging a dead horse.

The burning question of the moment isn't whether the Allies should have been prepared but whether they now are going to split their forces and try to wage full-dress war in Europe and the Far East at the same time.

That's what the critics are urging, but the British and American governments have decided that the only sure road to victory is to smash the mainspring of the World war first—and that's Hitler. That doesn't mean reinforcements can't be sent to the Far East, but it may mean that not enough can be spared to prevent the Japs from overrunning a lot more territory before Germany is beaten and we can take care of Nippon.

Britain's greatest weakness at Singapore is warplanes. Those great soldiers, the Australians, are being asked to fight again without proper air protection, just as they did in Greece and in the hell at Crete.

That naturally will add fuel to the fire of criticism. Ordinarily I don't see high profit in discussing such controversial topics, but this is one of the times when we might speak up if we have anything to say for our ally. Of course, the answer must be a matter of personal opinion and I can only report observations made during a score of years that I associated with the British in many parts of the world, in peace and in war, at work and at play.

Precaution Will Prevent Spread of Cold

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"How far that little candle throws its beam" to quote the Bard, could be applied to coughing and sneezing in this kind of weather: "How far that little sneeze throws its particles, so far."

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

is spread a good cold in a naughty world."

We were astonished a few years ago to find out how far a sneeze carries. This was demonstrated by the work of Professor M. W. Jenkinson and Professor M. W. Edgerton at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They took three hundred high speed photographs at exposures of 1-15/100 of a second of a number of sneezers.

The droplets which were cast out from the nose and throat, showed up plainly on the photographic plates. The sneeze can expel droplets with a velocity as high as 150 feet a second, or more than 100 miles an hour. A bullet from a regular .38-caliber revolver leaves the barrel of the revolver with a speed of about 620 feet a second.

Sneeze Droplets

The droplets from a sneeze are from 1-16 to less than 1-150 of an inch in diameter and evaporate quickly, but they leave solid nuclei of germs which take several days to settle to the ground. A sneeze can carry these particles as far as twelve feet.

Now this points out the fact that one of the great and important agents in preventive medicine is the pocket handkerchief. For the sake of everyone in the surrounding neighborhood, if you are going to sneeze and cough, get your pocket handkerchief, or at least your hand, in front of your nose and throat. If you are having a cold, you had better provide yourself with some gauze squares which you can use in this way and burn afterwards.

We are advised all the time during the cold season to avoid people with colds. This is easier said than done since all but about one-sixth of the population have colds during this season of the year.

Prevent Spreading Colds

The burden of prevention of a cold lies with the fellow who has it. If he will employ the simple measures which go with the use of the pocket handkerchief, he will be able to prevent contamination of the atmosphere.

There is no antiseptic nose spray or mouth wash which will render your nasal secretions and droplets harmless if you have a cold, so do not depend upon them as soon as you get a cold. To a certain extent you are the guardian of the public health, and you should set yourself up as a health officer to prevent giving your cold to other people in the office, in the home and in the theater.

It has been said that everybody is advised to go to bed with a cold, but the fact is that about ninety per cent of cold sufferers go to the movies. To give up the movies is another piece of self-denial that you could use in order to be a good and patriotic citizen.

Emerald Embassy by FRANCIS GERARD

CHAPTER THIRTY

"You know, of course," went on Meredith, "that your most important problem was to hide the stolen necklace. Not only Scotland Yard, but the whole intelligence service was scouring all England for it." He frowned, and continued, "The first thought of that weird looking place I don't know but, from its grisly nature, I suspect Satsul."

The Countess listened stoically as John pointed out that, "it was undoubtedly clever to think of hiding the object of so great interest to Lord Lanchester at the very gates of his Weyland Hall. It must have taken weeks of preparation to have taken the ground. Alas, during the process Ambrose Pennyfeather died—because he loved beech trees."

"Let me clarify that statement. A year or so ago Mr. Pennyfeather had bought himself a site for his grave in Weyland cemetery, and because he loved these big, magnificent trees, he purchased a site beneath that huge beech tree which stands so close to the cemetery wall. No grave in that cemetery could be closer to the wall at that particular point, and that one spot near the wall was the only possible one for your plan. It was chosen by your associates because of its proximity to a house, Vine Cottage, which was to let."

"Having determined on your place of concealment for the Satsul necklace, the conspirators set about deliberately murdering a man towards whom you felt no animosity, simply and solely that his death might further your scheme."

"The way in which you gained possession of the necklace is self-evident, and the information was, of course, given by Norma Bailey, known in Paris as Nora Bailey. She came of a decent English family, like quite a number of girls in Paris, went astray. She was not fool enough to spoil all her chances as a childless attempt at concealing identity showed. Norma Bailey, when she was 'rescued' by the old Duchess of Stream, had reached the time where she began to worry about her future and, like so many various hysterics of her type, swung round in revulsion against the lunatic excitement of her life, and desired nothing more than the complete security of normal respectability."

"You and your associates saw in this an opportunity to get her what she wanted and, at the same time, put her in a position where she would be of future service to you. In other words, the position as secretary to Lord Lanchester was worked."

"Armed with vital information from Norma Bailey, you were able to draw up a time-table to which you strictly adhered. The first item was the murder of Mr. Pennyfeather. From your point of view it was essential that he should be murdered, by which I mean that it would appear quite obviously to be murder. It had to be this way for he had apparently died of a sudden heart attack, for instance, there might not have been a post-mortem examination performed. So you had to insure that this would be done. Therefore, you had him shot by your Apache, who killed him with a .32 Browning automatic."

"Then came the impersonation of Mr. Blaydes-Steele and myself, the theft of the necklace and the handing over of the necklace to a man who would be in a position to put it in its previously agreed place of concealment. The little parcel containing the Satsul necklace was given to the undertaker's assistant, Henry Huff."

Meredith paused a moment and glanced momentarily at the still figure of the girl who sat watching him, her eyes fixed on his face. He frowned and took up his tale again.

"After the autopsy, Huff concealed the necklace inside the body."

Anne winced almost imperceptibly and Meredith dropped that morbid detail. "As to the seduction of the young officer Philip Horton, that too had been carefully thought out in advance, probably by Satsul. It was essential to have somebody capable of plotting and digging a tunnel from Vine Cottage to the grave in which the emerald necklace was concealed."

"When did you first suspect?" Anne asked, "that the secret lay in Weyland?"

Very shortly after my first interview with you, Madame."

She wrinkled her brows as she asked, "Did I betray myself in some way?"

"No," he replied. "But we had detectives listening to all your 'phone conversations.'"

Anne arched her eyebrows with the query, "So simple as that?" Then she laughed softly. "We were too sure of ourselves, Sir John. So sure that, well, that I couldn't resist sending you the little piece of verse which I made Raoul write for me."

Meredith nodded. "Go down, Sir John, go down," etc. How does it go on? Seek ye fulfillment of your jewelled quest? Then lend attentive ear to our behest and seek the knowledge which lies in death. Like most problems," he commented, "very simple when you know the answer. I must admit I had not the faintest idea what it meant. Of course, you realize, Madame, that the killing of Huff was a tactical error."

She moved restlessly at that and said quickly, "It wouldn't have been only that that brainless apache lost his head."

Sir John nodded. "I think I can tell you what happened," he said quietly. "I should imagine that Toto had been given instructions to silence Huff, who was showing signs of panic, and that your apache received strict orders to use his knife. Unfortunately for him, Huff was nervous and came armed to the rendezvous. When he was found, he had a revolver near his hand."

"I think that the interview between the two men terminated when Toto realized that, if he was not quick, it would be Huff who knocked him off instead of the other round. Strictly against orders, Toto shot Huff and then attempted to cover up his blunder by trying to turn the bullet wound into a stab wound. He might have succeeded, if his knife had not driven the bullet further in until it lodged against the spine."

NO SPEEDY PEACE BY LABOR IS SEEN

gested that AFL and CIO peace committees, which failed to work out an agreement at their last meetings in 1939, convene again.

Events since 1939, the UMW chief said, "have enfeebled certain obstacles" which existed at the time and "there is justification for the belief that a further effort could achieve success."

Lewis wrote as a member of CIO's negotiating committee. He did not elaborate on his reasons for believing that a renewal of negotiations might meet with success.

The last peace meetings broke up after AFL rejection of a formula by Lewis under which the AFL, CIO and the four big railroad brotherhoods would have formed an "American congress of labor," in which neither Green nor Lewis would have been eligible to hold office.

Even the elimination of Green and Lewis from their high positions would do little to smooth the way for reunion, one AFL official said today. "For instance," he said, "the AFL and CIO now have member unions in conflict in upward of two dozen fields, and that is only one of the primary problems."

MEXICO SUBMITS PLAN TO NATIONS

Would Extend Non-Belligerent Status To All United Nations

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 19.—Mexico presented a proposal to the Pan-American conference today to extend to all the United Nations the status on non-belligerents in their fight against the Axis powers.

Led by Argentina, most of the Latin-American countries already have declared the United States a non-belligerent. Among other things, this means that United States warships can enter and leave their ports at will, free of the regulation forcing ships to limit their stays to 24 hours.

The proposal came as the foreign ministers of 19 American republics exerted pressure on Argentina and Chile to line up in a solid western hemisphere severance of relations with the totalitarian nations.

Argentine sources said their delegation wished to present a compromise proposal.

BURMA'S PREMIER NABBED BY BRITISH

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Premier U Saw of Burma, who quit London last November in a huff after failing to obtain dominion status for his country, has been arrested by the British for plotting with the Japanese.

An official announcement today indicated seizure of the round-faced, skirt-wearing little Oriental had balked a conspiracy to hand over to the Japanese the British Asiatic possession which holds a vital role in the defense of Singapore.

This statement, issued from No. 10 Downing street, Prime Minister Churchill's official residence, said U Saw had been "in contact" with the Japanese since the outbreak of war in the Pacific.

"This fact has been confirmed by his own admission," the statement added.

Just where U Saw was taken into custody was not disclosed. He went to Washington from London and was in Hawaii on his way back home when the Japanese started the war in the Pacific. This forced him to reverse his journey.

This suave, polished U Saw was considered one of the most picturesque characters in the political-diplomatic world. The "U" in his name means "revered sir," or familiarly, "uncle," and is given elder statesmen and other Burmese of prominence as a mark of respect.

Burma, lying between Japanese-dominated Thailand and India, offers a starting point for a flank assault upon the Japanese invaders of Malaya and is the starting point of the Burma road, over which moves American and other war supplies for Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek forces.

REPORT DYNAMITE IN LOAD OF COAL

LISBON, Jan. 19.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation was understood today to be investigating circumstances surrounding the discovery of a stick of dynamite in a load of coal which was hauled to the plant of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron Saturday night from a strip mine in Wayne township.

The dynamite was discovered during a routine inspection of coal as the load was dumped into a bin from the truck operated by Harry Woods of Lisbon.

Woods, who hauls for Carl Feicht, Lisbon operator of the Wayne township mine, was at a loss to know how the powder stick got into his truck. He told authorities, it was learned, that he had made two stops enroute to Akron, one at the Feicht garage in Lisbon and another in Salem.

FBI agents indicated that the dynamite could have become mixed with the coal accidentally or could have been placed there intentionally.

THIRD VESSEL LOST IN SUBMARINE WAR

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—An Axis submarine operating off the North Carolina coast yesterday torpedoed and sank the Standard Oil tanker, Allan Jackson to bring to three tankers the toll of undersea boats of the United States Atlantic coast since Wednesday.

The landing of survivors of a torpedoed Panamanian freighter at an east coast Canadian port yesterday indicated that at least a fourth vessel had been sunk in apparent widespread Axis submarine forays.

The Norfolk, Va., naval operating base said that 13 survivors of the crew of 35 of the tanker were rescued by a rescue vessel which also brought four bodies. All licensed officers were injured or lost. Survivors said the submarine gave no warning before looting its deadly missiles, expressing belief two torpedoes hit the tanker.

United States' interests are represented by the government of Switzerland in all enemy countries.

Keeping Auto Wheels In Line, Saving Precious Rubber, Will Aid In War Effort

Every American farm must contribute more food to the American fight for victory!

This means that every available farm machine must be in top shape at all times for the battle of production.

With parts hard to get, the Salona Supply company on W. Pershing st. suggests all farmers take time off and check over their needs, go over every machine and order now for matters may get worse. Right now, many parts can be supplied from stock on hand.

Besides supplying repair parts the Salona Supply company also maintains a repair department. You might call it a farm machinery garage, for here the necessary special equipment is on hand to make repairs quickly and as economically as is humanly possible.

Those who put off this important part of farming are almost certain to be disappointed when they need some small part right in the height of the season.

You certainly realize that the government would prefer that you did not drive your car a single mile more than is necessary, and above all—if you must drive—then keep the car in a condition that makes it an economical car on fuel, oil and tires.

You no doubt are as willing as anyone to help every way you can but perhaps you do not know that if one of the wheels of your car is out of balance you are most certainly wasting that precious rubber.

With a wheel out of balance or alignment even a very little, much less than you can detect by observation, it actually drags on the pavement as you drive, every turn of the wheel leaving a little of the rubber. If the tire is wearing unevenly on the tread, it's most likely that it is out of balance.

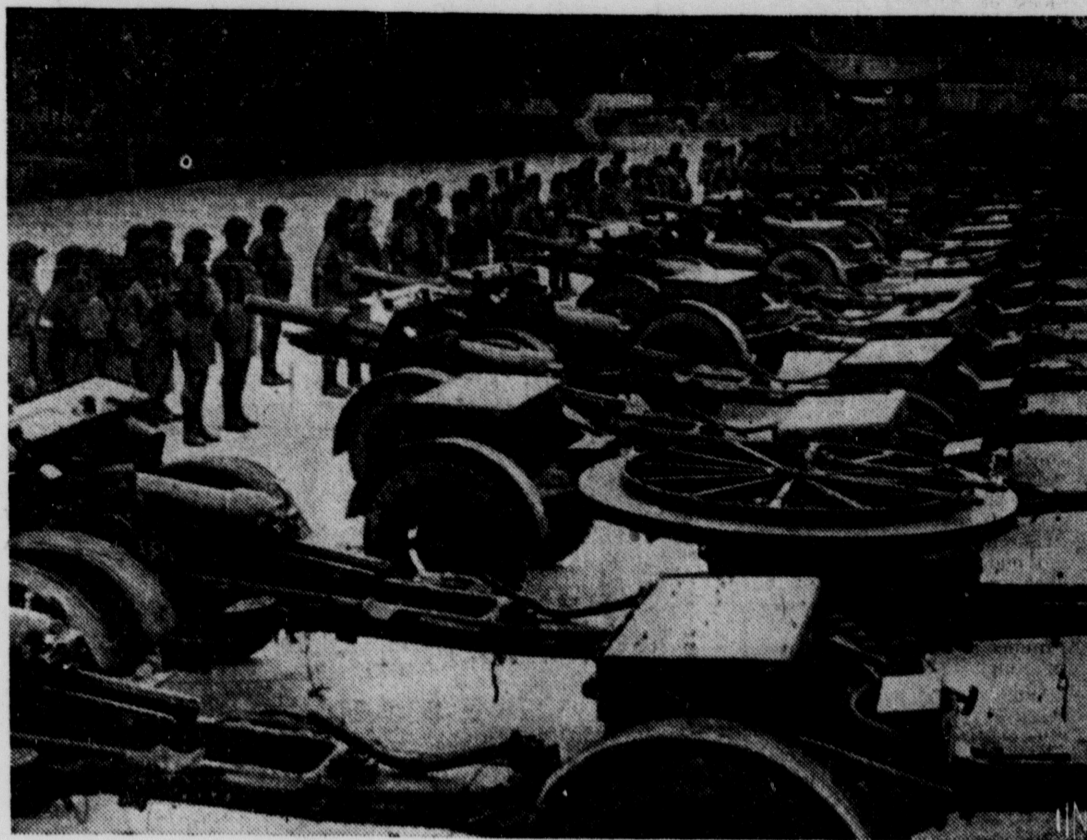

Either of these conditions are easy to remedy with the use of the Bear Line equipment at Matt Klein's specialized garage on New Garden st. What's more it is not an expensive service, and it's one that you can see for yourself is most necessary when the car is placed on the machine for testing, by simply watching the dials.

Not only are you helping defense and our war effort but you are helping yourself. Your tires are going to be hard to replace and most certainly they should be made to last as long for you as possible for economy's sake.

Body, fender, frame, wheel, axle straightening and wheel balancing are all services that are of a specialized nature. Few garages are equipped to render such service but at Matt Klein's it is the only work done except in the painting and finishing line.

All employees have taken courses at the factory so they do know the best way to do any given work and Matt Klein guarantees his work, every car being made to conform to factory specifications.

There is a lot of satisfaction when the old bus has to make a trip to the garage to know the boss of the shop is going to do or at least watch the work done and that's the case at Wiggers garage on S. Ellsworth ave.

Pete Wiggers is always on the job. It's like buying a quality piece of any merchandise. The size of his shop does not permit the possibility of mass work, where the buck passing is so common. He simply can not depend upon volume. It must be quality work, so the customer will be satisfied and always come back when in need of further service.

NORTHWESTERN IS NEXT BUCKEYE FOE

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 — Mid-year examinations slowed down the Big Ten basketball race to four games tonight and three Saturday but included was a week-end meeting of Illinois and Minnesota, currently the No. 1 and No. 2 quintets in the league.

The Gophers play the Chicago Maroons on the midway tonight with every hope of picking up their fifth victory in six games. Illinois will be shooting for its fifth triumph in as many starts against Iowa.

Should both the Gophers and the Illini win, their Saturday battle would increase in importance. A Minnesota victory would vault the Gophers into the lead. An Illinois triumph would keep them in front well toward the halfway mark in the race.

Paris Restores Freshness,
Beauty To Faded
Clothing

It's the same old blue dress but it just came back from the Paris Cleaners with all its original color and beauty and it really fooled her husband, who had visions of another bill to pay from some dress shop.

Paris Cleaners surely do know all the tricks of putting new life and sparkle into soiled or faded garments. At Paris Cleaners each dress is carefully measured and a record kept before cleaning. It assures you of the style that has so much to do with the smooth, flattering fit. The measuring is like insurance. The garment is sure to come back the same length, with the same waist line and sleeve length.

When all the hand finishing is completed, it is carefully examined to be sure that all buttons and ornaments are securely attached. You will be amazed how the fabric is refreshed and the shape of the dress retained.

Paris Cleaners do not hesitate to guarantee their work. They know their methods are fool proof, all employees are skilled in their particular line and only chemicals that have met the rigid tests of the association are ever used. All machinery is the most modern, the trade has developed, nearly all equipment being new at the Paris Cleaning plant, on the Benton road, within the past few months.

46 defeat Saturday by Wisconsin, went to Columbus to oppose Ohio State, which stepped out of a four-game losing streak by nosing out the Hawkeyes by two points. Michigan, now beaten four times in five engagements, will be in Madison to play the rejuvenated Badgers in tonight's fourth game.

It's warming up again and the drag on the coal bin is not quite as strong as it has been for a few weeks, but, by the same token, it's time to replenish stocks worn down by an unusually severe cold spell.

It's winter time, you know, and anything can happen, and probably will. The unusually warm weather of yesterday and today certainly will not last indefinitely and the wise homeowner will be ready for the next cold spell when it arrives.

Because of the fact that the demand for coal has slackened a little, because furnaces are not being fired as frequently, coal dealers are getting a breathing spell. Consequently, it's a good time to order coal because they'll have more time to care for your order.

SAXONS WIN, 40-32, OVER CANTON FOR EIGHTH STRAIGHT

Girscht, Wagner Pace team As Mike Linder Scores But Four Points

The Salem Saxons came through with their eighth consecutive win of the campaign Saturday night as they staved off a late rally by the Canton Saxons five to win 40-32 in a game played on the Memorial building hardwood.

The game firmly entrenched the locals in the top slot in the Penn-Ohio Saxon loop. Jumping off to an early lead in the opening period of the tilt, the Salemites outscored their foes every quarter but the last one when the Cantonites put in a desperate bid for victory in an effort to snap the locals' winning streak.

The locals uncovered a new scoring threat Saturday in John "Ham" Girscht who flipped in 10 points to help lead the Salem team in scoring when the high-scoring Mike Linder was held to a pair of field goals. Linder, who had led the team in the point-making department the last six games, was well checked by a furious Canton defense.

Paced by Girscht and Wagner with 10 tallies each the Salem quintet grabbed an 11-6 lead at the end of the first period, extended it to 25-13 at the half, boosted it to 34-31 at the end of three quarters. It was then that the Cantonites made a bid for victory. But even had the locals been held scoreless in the last frame, the 11 markers counted by the visitors would not have made up the deficit they faced as they entered the last period. The Salem lads tallied six points in this stanza.

For Salem, it was Girscht and Matt Wagner with 10 points each who topped the locals in the scoring column. The rest of the scoring was evenly distributed among six other players. Schoisten featured for the visiting five as he flipped in six buckets and three charity tosses for a 15-point total.

The Salem Saxons have an open date next Saturday but will return to action the following week against Farrell, Pa. The game will be played at the Memorial building.

LINEMAN No. 1 - - - By Jack Sords

ENDICOTT PEABODY, HARVARD GUARD, WINNER OF THE KNUTE ROCKNE TROPHY FOR BEING THE OUTSTANDING ALL-AMERICAN LINEMAN FOR 1941

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(Wide World)—After seeing what has happened to the first ten, we're not surprised that the tennis bosses put in extra effort to develop young players. With two top-rankers in the pros, two listening for offers, one in the navy and three under minor penalties because of last year's expense accounts, the guys who run the big tournaments probably are wondering where the next drawing-card will come from.

We still think open tournaments would simplify the matter by giving the kids who need extra expense money the chance to earn it honestly. The story that the National Leagues were considering the Philles' demand for a loan at that "secret" meeting doesn't sound quite right. The Phils have been able to sell players right along for the kind of dough the Browns are trying to borrow and they still have some to sell if they're that hard up.

Babe Ruth is back home from the hospital but isn't allowed to go out yet. Don't count on seeing Ray Robinson lift the welter-weight title from Red Cochrane Feb. 20. Before Friday's fight, Manager Willie Gildenberg showed Mike Jacobs a letter from Fred A. Hugins, Cochrane's boss at the Newport Naval station, saying Red couldn't be spared for the five weeks he wants for training. Others at the station aren't even allowed to go home overnight. Frank Cuhel, whom you may have heard broadcasting war news from Java, is the Iowa athlete who ran second in the 400 meters hurdles at the 1928 Olympics.

Clippers Tounce McDonald, 45 to 35

MCDONALD, Jan. 19.—Columbiana High's cage aggregation, currently engaged in building a winning streak, chalked up its fourth straight triumph Saturday night 45-35, as McDonald's expense.

Led by Bill Hollinger, ace forward, who accounted for 25 points on 12 field goals and a foul, the visitors pulled steadily ahead in the last half after gaining a 20-17 lead at the intermission. The teams were deadlocked 8-8 in the first period, and Columbiana increased its halftime margin to 32-25 going into the finale.

Joe Kunkel vied with Hollinger for individual honors, netting 19 points on eight field goals and three successful charity tosses. McDonald copped the reserve battle, 18-13.

Battle Heads State-Wide 33-Game Slate; Toledo Faces Two Foes

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Jan. 19.—Ohio's collegiate basketball standings, twisted out of shape by last week's big barrage, are due for further scrambling this week as the state's 38 squads go through a 33-game slate, with 11 contests in the fiery Ohio Conference.

Baldwin Wallace, which won three straight league games last week to set the conference pace with six victories without defeat, remains idle except for a non-icop affair with luckless Western Reserve, but two other games should have a big bearing on the title.

Seek to Repeat
Heading the list is the Wittenberg-Mount Union clash at Alliance Friday night. The Mounts currently pacing the state-wide chase with eight wins, and defending both the state and conference crowns, must brush aside the Lutherans, winners of three league events, to have a chance to repeat.

The other headliner is between Capital's Lutherans, the state's high-scoring quintet, and Muskrum's rejuvenated Muskies who romped over three foes last week in impressive style. That one is booked Wednesday at Capital.

Toledo's loss to Marshall last Monday allowed Mount Union to slip into the state-wide lead, despite the comeback of the Rockets to defeat Cincinnati and Marshall later in the week. So hectic was the play last week that only Akron in eighth place, Kenyon in 17th and Rio Grande in 20th were able to hold the places they boasted the week before, the other 35 moving up or down.

Ohio State, after six straight setbacks, put on a last-minute spurt Saturday night to defeat Iowa, 54 to 52, maintaining a home-floor superiority over the "fall court" team. The Bucks have beaten Iowa 12 times without a setback on the home lot since '23.

The Bucks meet Northwestern here tonight, and go to Michigan Saturday.

Week's Schedule
Here's the week's slate, curtailed a bit as the boys study for next week's mid-year exams:
Monday: Northwestern at Ohio State, Toledo at Kent State, Marietta at Mount Union, DeSales at Indiana Tech, Mexico City "Z" at Rio Grande, Hillsdale at Defiance.

Tuesday: Bowling Green at Ashland, Findlay at Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan at Ohio U., Rider at Wooster.

Wednesday: Muskrum at Capital, Dayton at Miami.

Thursday: Ohio Northern at Ashland, DeSales at Calvin, Cincinnati at Michigan State, Findlay at Defiance.

Friday: Wittenberg at Mount Union, Hiram at Bowling Green, Defiance at Indiana Tech, Baldwin Wallace at Western Reserve.

Saturday: Ohio State at Michigan, Wittenberg at Kent State, Bowling Green at Wooster, Otterbein at Denison, John Carroll at Case, Capital at Wilmington, Muskrum at Youngstown, Hiram at Findlay, Dayton at Cincinnati, Oberlin at Cedarville, Xavier at Tennessee, Western Reserve at Detroit, and Toledo at Loyola.

Hi-Y Cagers Wallop Lisbon Quint, 41-19
The Salem Hi-Y cagers racked up their second win of the season Saturday as they drubbed the Lisbon Hi-Y five, 41-19.

The locals grabbed a lead early in the initial period and won the tilt going away. They led 10-4 at the first quarter, 18-11 at the half and 28-13 at the end of three quarters of play.

Jack "Beanie" Tinsley featured for the home team as he hooped eight points. He was aided considerably by Bob "Buck" Ritchie, Bruce "Wrangler" Krepps and Johnny Drakulich who tallied seven points each. Eight members of the Salem column in the rout.

Robinson Puts Away No. 27

Ray Robinson, Harlem thunderbolt, follows through after driving a terrific right to Fritz Zivich's jaw in their scheduled twelve-round bout in New York. Never beaten as a pro, Robinson scored a technical kayo over the former welterweight king from Pittsburgh in the tenth round, marking up twenty seven victories.

Face Presidents Tuesday At Warren, Youngstowners On Home Hardwood Friday

Dominick Venetta Is Big Scoring Power of Warren Five; Presidents Have Won Seven and Lost Two Games In Present Campaign

Salem High's touring Quakers go on the road again Tuesday night, this time to meet the tough Warren Presidents. The Warrenites, after copping their first seven games—most of them by substantial margins, have suffered defeat twice in the past at the hands of a pair of the district's best fives—Akron South's Cavaliers and the Canton McKinley Bulldogs. They lost a one-point game to South in an overtime Friday and were defeated by McKinley Saturday night by eight points.

Venetta Leading Scorer
The Presidents hold victories over Geneva, 43-23; Youngstown Chaney, 69-18; Struthers, 44-32; Girard, 42-18; Farrell Pa., 35-34; and Niles 50-24. The team is exactly the same aggregation which pinned a 49-23 loss on the Quaker squad of 1940-41.

The team is sparked by Chet La Buda, sharpshooting forward, who scored 20 points against the Salem last season. Dominick Venetta, a 6 foot 2 inch center, is the leading scorer of the Presidents' star-studded outfit with an 18-point spurge against Canton McKinley his best effort of the campaign. A steady type of player who doesn't score too much, Luther Rhine and Larry Larson are stationed at the guard posts and average about eight and five points a game respectively.

Last Game for LaBuda
The teams have met two common opponents in Niles and Youngstown Chaney and the Presidents are much the better team on comparative scoring basis. The Quakers defeated Niles by a 41-32 count while the Warren outfit swalloped the same team, 50-24. Salem topped Chaney, 47-32, while the Warrenites handed Chaney a 69-18 shellacking. However, comparative scores generally mean nothing at all so the Quakers' chances of defeating the Presidents are not dimmed in the least. The Quaker tilt, as luck would have it, will be the last of LaBuda's high school career as he passes the 20-year age limit late next week.

On Tuesday night at the Warren gym, the Salem lads will place a seven-win, two-loss record on the scoreboard as will the Presidents. The locals will be trying to extend their present winning streak to three games while the home team will attempt to snap out of their two game slump.

Meet Rayen Friday
On Friday night, the Quakers return to the home boards to battle a tough Youngstown Rayen outfit. The Rayenites won their first four tilts and then had their streak snapped by the same Akron South five which snapped Warren's string at six straight. Their success on the hardwood this year is due to the stellar play of Steve Mackos, the Wilcox brothers, Paul Dykes and Newman Posey. P. Wilcox, 20, became ineligible at the end of the current semester and the Salem contest will be his last. Coach Joe Horn is unworried about the whole thing as he is prepared for the blow. For several weeks he has been grooming Junior Wilcox to fill his brother's shoes and the younger has displayed enough good basketball to make Horn believe his problem is definitely solved.

Regular Five To Start
All in all, the local courtmen face their toughest assignments of the season this week. Warren and Rayen, despite two losses each, are still rated better than average teams in this district. Victories over these two squads would be the highlights of the season and the chances of scoring these wins are not small. Coach Herb Brown will probably start Ray "Goose" McGaffick, Salvatore "Tut" Guappone, Sam Pridon, Johnny Volio and Bob "Scub" Scullion against both opponents.

Reserve games are scheduled before both varsity tilts this week.

Doesn't Want Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Friends of Wendell L. Willkie said today the 1941 Republican presidential nominee apparently had decided to decline official position with the government because he wished to preserve his private capacity as a citizen and be free to utter constructive criticism of the administration's war effort.

Willkie already has rejected an offer of appointment as one of a panel of arbiters to aid the new war labor board in its efforts to settle industrial disputes.
